

Katrina Goode - Senior Broker

Katrina has enjoyed 20 years as a trusted advisor to her clients. She loves listening to their challenges in business and offering the best solutions possible to help them progress forward. As well as enjoying strong and lengthy relationships, Katrina loves continually meeting new people and exploring new opportunities too. Every day working in this industry is exciting for Katrina and she values all the people with whom she works. Working at Runacres allows her to confidently arrange the best possible insurance solutions available in the market, complemented by her wealth of knowledge and expertise to enable the best possible outcomes for all. She looks forward to arriving in the office each day as no day is ever the same and you can always count on new situations, learning new things and lots of laughter.

When she is not at work Katrina spends time in the company of her supportive husband and daughter. Katrina mostly thrives on the simple things in life with a good balance. She loves having family and friends around, enjoying and cooking great food, varied conversation and keeping up with exercise in many activities.
